Some Cheese With my Crackers

1. I thought I might eat me some cheese with my crackers and wine. I like my wine red or white or ev - en the blush-y kind. I don't whine if my wine is bad. I nev - er, ev - er cry. Not be-cause of my whine, no, but be - cause my wine is fine. 2. I thought you might like cheese with your crackers and my sau-sage. That's not a eu-pha-mism, but I am a eu-pha-mism kid. I thought you might like a cheese ball. It is chees-y and fun. And spray cheese in a cheese can, well, you can't go wrong with one. 3. I thought that this year would get bet-ter if I add-ed cheese. So here you go, my chees-y friend some more cheese if you please. I thought we could try with-out cheese, just once or twice tonight. Though we'll keep smil-ing cheese, of course, no more of the sliced kind. 4. I thought that we might eat some food with-out cheese for my gut. My gut it don't like it no more it real-ly hurts my butt. I thought that we could switch to some-thing a little higher fi-ber. Not too much fib-er, just enough, I don't want to fight her.
